Data protection officer: I West – Audit West, BaNES, Guildhall, High Street, Bath, BA1 5AW

As part of any recruitment process, the BWMAT collects and processes personal data relating to job applicants. The BWMAT is committed to being transparent about how it collects and uses that data and to meeting its data protection obligations.

What information does the BWMAT collect?

The BWMAT collects a range of information about you. This includes:

- Your name, address and contact details, including email address and telephone number;
- Details of your qualifications, skills, experience and employment history;
- Information about your current level of remuneration, including benefit entitlements;
- Whether or not you have a disability for which the BWMAT needs to make reasonable adjustments during the recruitment process;
- Information about your entitlement to work in the UK; and
- Equal opportunities monitoring information, including information about your ethnic origin, sexual orientation, health, and religion or belief.
- Information obtained during the interview process

The BWMAT collects this information in a variety of ways. For example, data might be contained in application forms, CVs, obtained from your passport or other identity documents, or collected through interviews or other forms of assessment.

The BWMAT will also collect personal data about you from third parties, such as references supplied by former employers, information from employment background check providers and information from criminal records checks. The BWMAT will seek information from third parties as appropriate throughout the recruitment process and will inform you that it is doing so.

Data will be stored in a range of different places, including on your application record, on IT systems (including email).

Why does the BWMAT process personal data?

The BWMAT needs to process data to take steps at your request prior to entering into a contract with you. It also needs to process your data to enter into a contract with you.

In some cases, the BWMAT needs to process data to ensure that it is complying with its legal obligations. For example, it is required to check a successful applicant's eligibility to work in the UK before employment starts.

The BWMAT has a legitimate interest in processing personal data during the recruitment process and for keeping records of the process. Processing data from job applicants allows the BWMAT to manage the recruitment process, assess and confirm a candidate's suitability for employment and decide to whom to offer a job. The BWMAT may also need to process data from job applicants to respond to and defend against legal claims.

Where the BWMAT relies on legitimate interests as a reason for processing data, it has considered whether or not those interests are overridden by the rights and freedoms of employees or workers and has concluded that they are not.

The BWMAT processes health information if it needs to make reasonable adjustments to the recruitment process for candidates who have a disability. This is to carry out its obligations and exercise specific rights in relation to employment.

Where the BWMAT processes other special categories of data, such as information about ethnic origin, sexual orientation, health or religion or belief, this is for equal opportunities monitoring purposes.

For most roles, the BWMAT has a responsibility to seek information about criminal convictions and offences. In addition to these checks information will also be sought in respect to Safeguarding and the suitability to work with children. Where the BWMAT seeks this information, it does so because it is necessary for it to carry out its obligations and exercise specific rights in relation to employment.

If your application is unsuccessful, the BWMAT will keep your personal data on file for six months.

Who has access to data?

Your information will be shared internally for the purposes of the recruitment exercise. This includes members of the HR and recruitment team, interviewers involved in the recruitment process, school office staff and school leadership and IT staff if access to the data is necessary for the performance of their roles.

The BWMAT will share your data with third parties, as appropriate throughout the recruitment process. The BWMAT will then share your data with former employers to obtain references for you, employment background check providers to obtain necessary background checks and the Disclosure and Barring Service to obtain necessary criminal records checks.

Your data may be transferred outside the European Economic Area (EEA) to support right to work checks, where this occurs BWMAT will ensure compliance with data protection law is maintained.

How does the BWMAT protect data?

The BWMAT takes the security of your data seriously. It has internal policies and controls in place to ensure that your data is not lost, accidentally destroyed, misused or disclosed, and is not accessed except by our employees in the proper performance of their duties. The BWMAT has a specific data protection policy and Freedom of information policy

For how long does the BWMAT keep data?

If your application for employment is unsuccessful, the BWMAT will hold your data on file for six months after the end of the relevant recruitment process. At the end of that period, your data is deleted or destroyed.

If your application for employment is successful, personal data gathered during the recruitment process will be transferred to your personnel file and retained during your employment. The periods for which your data will be held are detailed in the BWMAT records retention document.

Your rights

As a data subject, you have a number of rights. You can:

- Access and obtain a copy of your data on request;
- Require the BWMAT to change incorrect or incomplete data;
- Require the BWMAT to delete or stop processing your data, for example where the data is no longer necessary for the purposes of processing;
- Object to the processing of your data where the BWMAT is relying on its legitimate interests as the legal ground for processing; and
- Ask the BWMAT to stop processing data for a period if data is inaccurate or there is a dispute about whether or not your interests override the BWMAT's legitimate grounds for processing data.

If you would like to exercise any of these rights, please contact the Head Teacher of the school or BWMAT HR department. You can make a subject access request in writing including via e-mail.

If you believe that the BWMAT has not complied with your data protection rights, you can complain to the Information Commissioner.

What if you do not provide personal data?

You are under no statutory or contractual obligation to provide data to the BWMAT during the recruitment process. However, if you do not provide the information, the BWMAT may not be able to process your application properly or at all.

You are under no obligation to provide information for equal opportunities monitoring purposes and there are no consequences for your application if you choose not to provide such information.

Automated decision-making

Recruitment processes are not based solely on automated decision-making.
